Management of Sexuality & Sexual Function in Rehabilitation Nursing

Donald D. Kautz, RN, PhD, CRRN

Course Objectives:

- Apply the PLISSIT model to assess patients' and their partners' sexual goals and to teach interventions which will optimize the restoration of their sexual health and sexual wellbeing.
- Describe expected sexual function by level of injury.
- Incorporate the use of sexual resources for patients into practice.
- Describe how functional problems can interfere with patients' and their partners' ability to reach their sexual goals, and teach interventions for overcoming or adapting to them.
