Learning Objectives

MedBridge
Prevention, Wellness, and Health Promotion: Neurologic PT
David Morris, PT, PhD, FAPTA

Course Objectives:

- Define, compare and contrast prevention, wellness, health promotion and related terms.
- Defend the role of the physical therapy practitioner in prevention, wellness and health promotion with patient/clients with neurologic dysfunction.
- Describe selected health behavior theories and behavior change communication strategies.
- Apply the UAB Health Focused Physical Therapy Model to patient/client management in clinical settings and with patient/clients with neurologic dysfunction.
- Discuss selected community program planning models for promoting prevention, wellness and health promotion.
- Develop a plan for learning more about prevention, wellness, and health promotion.